The Nurses Association of New Brunswick does not assume liability, implied or explicit, for errors in the information contained in the above table.

Nursing Program

The applicant must have completed a general nursing program; applicants having completed a specialized program without having completed a general program are not eligible for registration, i.e. children's nurse.

The nursing program must include both theoretical and clinical preparation in the following fields: medical, surgical, obstetrical and children's nursing. Nurses having completed their program after January 1973 must also have preparation in psychiatric nursing. Nursing programs must be substantially equivalent to those offered in New Brunswick during the same period.

Supervised Clinical Experience

Nurses who have never worked in North America must complete a six to eight week supervised clinical experience in an acute care facility prior to being eligible for registration. Arrangements for this clinical experience must be made by the applicant and approved by the Nurses Association of New Brunswick. Temporary registration will be required.

The Examination

Most nurses who have completed their nursing program outside Canada must write the Canadian Registered Nurse Examination (CRNE). This examination is offered throughout Canada in February, June and October. A ruling as to the applicant's eligibility for registration must be given by the Association in order to qualify to write this examination. An examination fee applies.

Temporary Registration

An applicant who is eligible for registration may apply for temporary registration while waiting to write the exam or while waiting for the results. The temporary registration fee is set according to the registration fee.

Method of Evaluation

The credentials must be assessed by the Nurses Association of New Brunswick. A processing fee of $113.00 is required for this assessment. Please note that only Canadian funds are accepted.

After the credentials have been assessed, the Association will advise the nurse of the steps to be taken in order to become eligible for registration. The steps may include one or many of the above mentioned criteria. When all the criteria are met, applicants may become registered by paying the registration fee.
